

FLYNN WROTE LETTERS TELLING MAYOR OF PLOT TO RAISE GRAFT

line of this office relative to a meeting yesterday with Gene Driscoll. The report will be self-explanatory. Patrolman Rensselaer of this office followed Lieut. Collins and witnessed the meeting and also followed Mr. Driscoll back to his office in Centre street. I am, believe me, very respectfully yours,

"WILLIAM J. FLYNN,
"Second Deputy Police Commissioner."
"At 3.15 to-day, Monday, Feb. 27, Detective Alexander Cohen called in the outer office of the Second Deputy Commissioner of Police, who instructed see Lieut. Collins, the latter being attached to the Second Deputy Commissioner's squad. Lieut. Collins met him, whereupon Detective Cohen explained that Gene Driscoll was up at Cleveland Place and Delancey street and wanted to see the Lieutenant at once.

"Lieut. Collins immediately reported the conversation to the Second Deputy Commissioner of Police, who instructed the officer to meet Driscoll. Patrolman Rensselaer, also attached to the office of the Second Deputy Commissioner of Police, doing clerical duty, was ordered to follow Lieut. Collins to the meeting point, and later to follow Driscoll away. Lieut. Collins proceeded to the corner of Cleveland Place and Delancey street, where he met Gene Driscoll.

"What kind of a job was that that you were trying to put on me?" asked Lieut. Collins.

DRISCOLL WANTED TO CALL IT A JOKE.

"Oh," replied Driscoll, "that was all a joke. Reardon came into my office in Centre street this morning and told me he had seen you and had made this proposition in a joking manner. I then replied: 'Why did you say that, were you trying to get me in bad?' Then Reardon said he would phone right away to you (Collins) about it; but I replied: 'No, I will go up and see Collins myself.' Of course, I did not like to go into Police Headquarters, so I sent a friend of mine, Detective Alexander Cohen. The whole thing is a 'hop story.' I could not deliver my brother Clem ever for anything. In fact, he would be up on his ear if I ever attempted such a thing.

"I know you, Collins, well enough to make any proposition of that kind myself; in fact, if I knew Flynn well enough, I would go to him and explain at once what I have told you; but I have never met him but once and could not do it. I had told my brother, Clem, that he had better be friendly with Flynn, because if the Detective Bureau proved unsuccessful under Flynn's management the police administration would fall and people would throw mud at it. I want you to distinctly understand that I did not send any one to you and that is why I am here.

SAID SOMEBODY WAS KIDDING FLYNN.

"Another thing that I want to say is that some one is 'kidding' Flynn when it comes to assignment of the detectives in the bureau. Good men are being sent out on bridges who ought to be serving in important precincts. I am telling you this so that you can tell Flynn that some one is 'kidding' him and have the matter righted.

"I am sorry my brother is in the Police Department, as it keeps me from doing lots of things I could do if he were not there.

"What did you tell Reardon, when he told you this morning of the story?" queried Lieut. Collins.

"What could I do?" was the response. "What could I tell him; he had already told it to you and all I could do was to make the best of it."

"Patrolman Alexander Cohen attached to the Detective Bureau, is at present assigned to duty with Bridge C."

TWO CONVICTS ACCUSE ALLEGED POLICE "PALS" OF "FRAMING UP."

Police Inspector Edward Hughes and Second Deputy Commissioner Dougherty were summoned as witnesses before the Curran Investigating Committee to-day and sensational developments affecting the police were promulgated by the Republican members of the committee. One phase of the inquiry was the effect of stool pigeon tactics on police promotions.

Chief Council Buckner announced that he would read confessions from convicts and ex-convicts, who had sworn that they had been "framed up" by the police for alleged crimes through the instrumentality of stool pigeons and that the police interested in the apprehensions and the gathering of alleged evidence against the men arrested were afterward promoted first grade detectives through these police machinations. A controversy followed Mr. Buckner's statement.

ALDERMAN WRANGLE OVER LINE OF INQUIRY.

"Do you think it fair," asked Alderman Dowling, "to bring the testimony of convicts against men who have never been charged with a crime?"

"Yes," answered the attorney. Alderman Smith objected to the introduction of such testimony before it had been discussed in executive session. He reminded Mr. Buckner that he was employed by the committee and that he should confer with the committee as to what line of evidence he was going to pursue before making anything public.

Alderman Dowling said that at the executive session to-day Mr. Buckner had told what he was going to bring up. The first deposition was that of convict Frank Pieresi, a repeated offender, now in Sing Sing. Pieresi swore that he knew Laberio Gambardella and Angelo Cahn, policemen, known as "Leo" and "Al."

"They were attached to Headquarters before they used to come around Fourteenth street. Charlie Rossi introduced them to me in Goldstein's poolroom," said Pieresi's deposition. "Rossi said, 'They are all right cops. If they can get a dollar they are willing to get it and divide it.' 'Oh, yes, we are all right as to the dollar,' one of the policemen then said.

When I met Detective Carbone at Forty-third street and Broadway with Leo and Rossi, Carbone said 'slide off Broadway and keep off Broadway.' Then Carbone searched me on Broadway and told Rossi and me to beat it. The convict's deposition went on to state that later a man named Leo approached Pieresi and "Leo" said there was a good job to be done on Sixth street; that a woman there had lots of diamonds and could easily be "doped."

DECLARES POLICEMAN OFFERED GUN TO THUGS.

"Leo," according to the convict, said: "That sounds good." But Leo said: "We haven't got enough guns for the job." Then, according to the convict, the policeman said: "Take my gun."

Pieresi swore further that he took no part in the Sixth street "job" and was later accused by "Leo" of cowardice for not participating.

He then tells of the German Bank robbery, for which he was sent up. The "gang" was all in over this and it was "Leo" who carried from $1,500 to $4,000 to the bank every Saturday morning. They all went down on the Bowery together and "Al" and "Leo" were to point out the woman who had been robbed or detectives showed up and talked to "Al" and he got "cold feet" and got out of the way.

"I heard several shots," Pieresi said. "Four Delancey street. I saw them chasing one of the boys and shooting. I joined in the chase and one of the detectives grabbed me and said I was arrested. 'Al' and 'Leo' took no part in the arrest. I did not see the woman robbed."

The officers, it is charged, were credited with the arrest and promoted, two weeks later. Pieresi's affidavit continues telling of his treatment at Police Headquarters. He said that the woman who had been robbed could not identify him, and Inspector Hughes said to her: "You —, you don't know me, do you?"

After the woman had left, the convict declares, Hughes smashed him in the face with his fist. Then Dominick hit him in the face with a blackjack and insisted upon him making a confession. He refused and was beaten again. A confession was written but he did not sign it.

SAID HE TOLD PROSECUTOR OF FRAME-UP.

He said he pleaded not guilty and was scared by the police into pleading guilty. When he and the other two were in the Toms he went to the District Attorney to tell him the story of the frame-up. Assistant District Attorney Delehanty said that he did not believe the story.

"Whitey," otherwise known as Raphael Deblasio, another Sing Sing crook, also made a deposition which was read by Mr. Buckner. He affirmed that a man named Pieresi took him to see "Al" and "Leo," and it was planned later to do a "job." Pieresi appeared and broached the Sixth street diamond robbery in the presence of Pieresi, "Leo" and "Al." "Leo" handed him a revolver when they all started off to do the "job," saying: "Here, take my gun," according to Pieresi. "Whitey," Policeman "Al" said that transaction.

Mr. Buckner explained that no arrest was made following the Sixth street "job."

"Whitey" then told of the Sixth street robbery of two women of their diamonds and money and said "Leo" and "Al" shared in the proceeds and "accused us of holding out."

"Whitey" declared he snatched the pocketbook from Ella Nichols in the bank job under direction of "Al" and "Leo."

"They were attached to Headquarters before they used to come around Fourteenth street. Charlie Rossi introduced them to me in Goldstein's poolroom," said Pieresi's deposition. "Rossi said, 'They are all right cops. If they can get a dollar they are willing to get it and divide it.' 'Oh, yes, we are all right as to the dollar,' one of the policemen then said.

When I met Detective Carbone at Forty-third street and Broadway with Leo and Rossi, Carbone said 'slide off Broadway and keep off Broadway.' HELD AS EMBEZZLER.

Herman Elkann, President of the National Varnish and Color Company of Newark, N. J., was arrested to-day by Detective Drummerhop on an indictment handed down by the Essex County Grand Jury charging him with embezzling $7,600 from the company.

The treasurer, Thomas B. Hawthorne of No. 21 Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn, was in the Toms Court as complainant before Magistrate French when Elkann was brought in. He declared that Elkann had given checks to persons to whom the company was not indebted, and that the checks were drawn on the company for Elkann's personal debts.

Through his attorney, Clark Jordan, Elkann waived examination and was sent to the Toms without bail to await extradition.

MORRIS—BOWERS.

Maids at This Wedding in the Gotham Were All in Pink.

The wedding of Miss Edna Vought Morris, daughter of Mrs. Edward H. Morris of the Hotel Bonta, No. 216 West Ninety-fourth street, to Philip J. Bowers of Newark, N. J., took place last evening at 8.30 o'clock in the ballroom of the Hotel Gotham. Mr. Hayes of St. Patrick's Cathedral officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with point lace and a court train of broadened satin which fell from the shoulders. Her veil of point lace was draped about the face and held with sprays of fresh orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. The bridegroom wore a diamond pendant, the gift of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids were the Misses Grace Hoadley and Margaretta Homans. They wore pink satin gowns and carried deep pink roses. There was also a little flower girl, Miss Jean N. Morris, a niece of the bride.

Edward J. Dunn of Newark was Mr. Bowers' best man, and the ushers were John H. Dunn of Newark and Ellison Pierce of Montclair.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers will motor to Hot Springs and spend a few weeks. Later they will sail for Europe, where they will remain until April. Upon their return they will live in Montclair.

Recipe That Breaks a Cold in a Day and Cures Any Croupy Cough.

"From your drugget get half ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine) and two ounces of Glycerine. Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey; shake well and use in dose of one to two teaspoons after each meal and at bedtime. Smaller doses to children, according to age. But be sure to get only the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Each half ounce bottle comes in a sealed tin screw-top case. If your drugget does not have it he will quickly get it. Many pictures are of large quantity and cheaper, but it is likely to expire. This formula comes from a reliable doctor and is certain. This was first published here six years ago and local druggists say it has been in constant demand ever since.

SYSTEM FULL OF URIC ACID—THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY CURED

Two years ago I was very sick and after being treated by several of the best physicians in Clinton, I did not seem to get any better. I was confined to my bed. Seeing Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root advertised, I resolved to give it a trial. After using it for three weeks, I found I was gaining nicely, so I continued until I had taken a number of bottles. I am now restored to health and have continued my labors. My system was full of uric acid, but Swamp-Root cured me entirely. I am sixty years old.

Yours very truly,
W. C. COOK.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add 1/4 pint of warm water and stir about 5 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 3 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much good syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualic acid and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making good remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup has often been limited, but never successfully. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
